(Keep Your Temper)

"Keep your temper, nobody else wants it." To lose your temper is to lose control of one's self, and it is impossible to control it without effort.

Temper is a bad thing. It gets you nowhere. Temper is a childish trait;
When it persists in older people, those people are just not mature.

Lets all try to control our temper and have more friends.

SPEAKERS FOR COMMITMENT

By: Donna Spence

Our speakers for the Commencement exercises are Dr. John Turner, Dean Of Colleges, Lynchburg Va. & Rev. Floy Cox, Pastor of Madison Heights Baptist Church. On June 2, 1957, Rev. Floy Cox will deliver the sermon to the graduates. And on June 5, 1957, Dr. John Turner will deliver the Address to the graduates.

Al: "When I go to bed at night, I always see yellow lights and green lights dancing in front of my eyes."

Sal: "Did you ever see a psychiatrist?"

Al: "No. Only yellow lights and green lights."

PRE-SCHOOL CLINIC

PATSY FERGUSON

On April 29th the school held its annual Pre-School Clinic for the children who are to start to school next year.

When the children arrived they were taken to register. After registering the parents and children were taken to the cafeteria and served their lunch. After lunch they were brought back to the first grade room and examined by Dr. Maxey and if necessary given a shot and vaccinated. In the auditorium a talk was given by Miss Montgomery and one by Mrs. Schink and afterwards parents and children were shown a movie, "Going to School".

There were about 59 parents and children present. We want to express our appreciation to the parents for the co-operation that they showed. We sincerely hope that their children will have pleasant school experiences.

VALEDICTORIAN
BY PATSY ARTHUR

The Valedictorian of the Senior Class of 1957 is Barbara Oliver.

She is what you call a straight "A" student. Out of her four years of high school her average is 98.6.

Barbara has worked hard and has accomplished a lot during these last years.

She is editor of both the Islander and Tellerium and is secretary of the S. C. A. She is a member of the Glee Club, A. Y., Beta Club, F. H. A., and was a delegate to Girls State. As you can see she takes an active part in school activities.

She is very active in sports and was a member of the Basketball All Star Team.

Congratulations, Barbara, on this great honor! We wish you the best of everything.

SALUTATORIAN
BY JEAN WISE

Every year there is one senior who has earned the title of Salutatorian. This year it is Della Mae Tolley. Della Mae rates second in the class of thirteen with an average of 96.8.

Della Mae has worked hard throughout her career to accomplish this but in a nonchalant way! (She never thinks she is better than anyone else.) She has almost been what you call a "straight A student". But class-work has not claimed all of Della's time. She has worked with the 4-H club and was a member of the 8th grade Talent Club. She is a member of Allied Youth, Future Homemakers of America, and the Glee Club. Della is not only a member of the Beta Club but is also vice-president of this honor organization. She was chosen as a delegate to Girls State. She is on the staff of both the Islander and the Tellerium. In all of her activities Della is glad to use her art ability, for which she is well known.

Della, we all want to say it couldn't have happened to a nicer girl! Good luck to you in whatever you do after graduation! We are all proud of our "Salutatorian" this year.

Personality in School
by: Gladys Tomlin

You may regard school as "just one of those things", and live only for graduation day. If so, you are going to miss some real opportunities. School is a miniature world in which you have a chance to find out how you will fit into the scheme of things later on. Ability to speak at meetings and the participation in class and school activities will be of great value to you throughout life.

If you treat other students right, they will respond to you. Be friendly to everyone, keeping your dislikes a secret. Don't spread stories about other students.

If you are a popular student, you are well-mannered. You are careful and considerate of other people's feelings. You are truthful and honest. You are courteous and when introduced to someone, you are cheerful and friendly. You don't quarrel with your classmates. You are friendly to all your teachers.

You and the Teacher

Even though a teacher sometimes wrongly accused you of something, be courteous to them at all times. Talking back might relieve your feelings, but it won't help the situation.

Don't talk when a teacher is talking or a student is reciting. Avoid laughing at others' mistakes--you may make others that are worse.

Never touch or read anything on a teacher's desk without permission.

Always address your teacher as "Miss, Mrs., or Mr."

In the Corridors

All of you have probably met the bad school citizen who goes tearing down the hall diving into people and never stopping to apologize. He sometimes stops to chat with a friend. Don't ever imitate this person. Don't try to rush because if you try to get to your destination on time it won't be necessary.

In the Cafeteria

Keep in line and follow in your turn. Insist that teachers and guests go ahead of you. Watch your table manners.

On the Play Grounds

It's easy to throw trash about on the grounds, but someone has to pick it up. Leaving trash lying around is a direct reflection on your home training. Cont'

If you have a romance, don't make him or her conspicuous by too constant attention around school.

Assemblies and Meetings

Get to assemblies and meetings on time and take your seat quietly. When the meeting is called to order, pay attention to the presiding officers. Don't talk. If you can't hear, don't distract the attention of others.

When applauding don't do it too generously. And please don't boo, whistle, or stomp your feet.

Thank You

Gladys

Aims of SCA

by: Katherine Fitzgerald

- 1) To develop in our schools the kind of students who are worthy citizens of the school, community, nation, and world in which they live.
- 2) To encourage more cooperation and sharing of responsibilities on the part of students, teachers, and parents.
- 3) To help provide a healthful and wholesome school environment (mental, social, and physical).
- 4) To stress safety measures in an effort to decrease the number of accidents.
- 5) To assist in providing a good program of recreation and social activities.
- 6) To work with the school faculty in improving the guidance program, for better understanding, on the part of students and parents, of vocational and educational opportunities available to them.
- 7) To assist community agencies in providing food, clothing, comfort, and, above all, a fuller measure of happiness to the less fortunate members of our society.
- 8) To promote good sportsmanship in all interscholastic and community activities.

My topic is How to Encourage more co-operation and sharing of responsibilities on the Part of Students, Teachers, and Parents.

First, I feel that people cooperate better if they understand the program set before them.

Parents understand what the school is trying to do if the principal and teachers at PTA meetings, open house, and assembly programs show and tell them how they work with students. If the school needs new books or magazines for the use of the students and explain that there is no money for these extras, some patrons will give a subscription or books. If the school needs a new piano for assembly use, the community as a whole will help pay for one, if the lunch room needs a new refrigerator to preserve the food the parents as a group known as Parents Teacher Association will purchase one, always with the cooperation of the principal.

Students share responsibilities for the school by helping keep order, keeping the halls and rooms clean, keeping the grounds free from litter-warning those who forget and throw paper around not to do so anymore. Students also show cooperation by helping clean and do the work for assemblies, parties, and school carnivals, and Health Day, basketball and baseball games. They help by selling tickets, taking up money and offering to be responsible for play equipment during the basketball, volleyball, and bas ball season. Students who volunteer their ability to be time keeper and scorekeeper show responsibilities and cooperation. Since students know that faculty members are not free to leave the class rooms at all times they show their cooperation by doing outside chores for them, such as setting up chairs ahead of time for Glee Club, assembly programs, games and parties.

We also show we can cooperate as students by helping in the lunchroom, and making repairs when things go wrong with the lights and water pump.

The teachers can cooperate by talking with the pupils, guiding them, encouraging them if they feel discouraged, cheering them on the games, attending games, taking up money at games and carnivals, buying food at bake sales, and of course following the principal's recommendations for school programs by attending

PTA meetings. A student and his parents feel better when they see teachers attending PTA meetings and other school functions all the time.

I have set down my views on cooperation and accepting responsibilities by the three important members of the school system:

1. Parents
2. Students, and
3. Teachers

Next we have Jean Wise to talk on Aim five which is to assist in providing a good program of recreation and social activities.

FHA Meeting

The FHA held their monthly meeting today and elected new officers for the year of 1957-58. They are as following:

President	Esther Dowson
Vice-Pres.	Mary Burks
Secretary	Edna Coffey
Treasurer	Beatrice Burks
Reporter	Gladys Tomlin
Historian	Doris Burks

Esther was elected to go to Radford to the FHA Convention.

Make: "The mosquitoes are so bad in my home state that the dogs and cats are afraid to go out in the springtime."

Matt: "That's nothing. On the farm where I was born, they once ate up the cow and then sat on the fence ringing the bell for her calf."

Patient: "Doctor, you've got to cure me of snoring. I snore so loudly I wake myself up."

Doctor: "In that case, I advise you to sleep in another room."

Senior Trip by Della & Gayle

The Senior Class along with Mr. Lee and Mrs. Oliver left Lynchburg Thursday, April 18, at 7:45 P.M. for New York.

We took a picnic lunch and ate on the bus. After a hilarious night of traveling and cat napping we arrived in New York about 6:00 A.M. Luckily our rooms at the Century Hotel were available so we rested for a while and then our tours began with Rockefeller Center which lasted all morning. We had the rest of the afternoon free, to do as we pleased.

On Friday night we attended the movie "Funny Face" and then saw an Easter Program and the "Rockettes." This was one of our most memorable experiences in New York.

Our other tours included a boat cruise around Manhattan Island, Empire State Building, Uptown and Downtown New York, Chinatown, Madison Square Garden, Central Park, United Nation Building, N.B.C. Radio Studio, Hayden Planetarium and Museum, and the Cathedral of St. John Divine.

We went uptown by subway and went shopping in Gimbels, Macy's and Saks. We decided to walk the eleven blocks back to the hotel.

On Monday night we went to see the movie "The Ten Commandments." We were very surprised to find it cost $3.30 a person. It was a wonderful movie and well worth the money.

On Tuesday morning we were up bright and early to start on our trip for Va. We stopped in Washington for a few minutes and then had lunch at the Streamline Restaurant in Fairfax, just outside of Washington.

We arrived in Lynchburg about 7:45 P.M.

This trip was made more enjoyable because of the presence of Boonsboro Seniors. (I forgot) we all had a wonderful and exciting time.

Can You Imagine

A Cow
By: Wack Campbell

I will tell you of a little cow,
She lived in a shed and her back was bare.
She was a very little cow,
She never knew why her back was bare.

Daddy's Girl

By: Linda Yoder

They say every man wants a son,
Yet our daddy doesn't have one.
When I, the oldest, the stork did bring,
In great joy he did sing.

Surely, everyone said, the next a boy
it will be,
But no again, a girl he did see.
Daddy said, playmates for one another
This time I'm glad it wasn't a brother.

Again a girl, and then once more,
Until now we are four.
And Daddy claims with all his might,
For him, four girls are just right.

Little Rain-Drops

By: Claudine Burks

Oh, where do you come from,
You little drops of rain?
Pitter-patter, pitter-patter,
Down the window-pane,
They say I'm very naughty,
But I've nothing else to do,
But sit here at the window;
I should like to play with you.

Tell me, little rain-drops,
Is that the way you play,
Pitter-patter, pitter-patter,
All the rainy day?
The little rain-drops cannot speak,
But "pitter-patter, pat."
Means, "We can play on this side,
Why can't you play on that?"

The Mountains and the Sea
By: Karen Bennett

The mountains and the sea,
Are beautiful to see,
The mountains shining on the sea.
Like leaves on a tree.
All these things God had to make,
Like your mother baked a cake.

Love

By: Wack Campbell

Love is not a play thing,
Love is not a twell.
If you want your heart broke
Just give it to a girl.

PLAY DAY IS HELD AT LYNCHBURG COLLEGE

A Play Day was held at Lynchburg College on May 4, 1977. The program was sponsored by the Girls Athletic Association of New London Academy.

There were five girls from Big Island who attended the event. They were Jean Wise, Carle Fifer, Betty StJohn, Mary Burke, and Barbara Oliver, who was Captain of one of the teams.

There were approximately 100 girls attending the event. They were divided and placed on 10 teams each competing against the other in softball, volleyball, tennis, track, swiming, ping pong, and various other sports.

The group was assembled for lunch on the grounds and participated in group singing.

The group was accompanied by Mrs. Parks,
Coach.
